

COLLEGE COUNSELING & PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES KNOWLEDGE BASE:

Supported by the American College Counseling Association

Additional support for Phases 1 & 2 provided by the
ACPA Educational Leadership Foundation

COLLEGE STUDENT HEALTH LITERATURE

PHASE 1: 1998-2008

PHASE 2: 2009-2013

PHASE 3: 2014-2017

De-Centralized College Counseling Knowledge-Base

- In Student Services: A Handbook for the Profession, Komives & colleagues (2003) make the case for the important role of counseling and mental health services on college and university campuses. Our data-base fills a professional development gap for college counseling professionals by doing the work of bringing together and disseminating knowledge found across several professional literatures.
- Phase 1 was a review of college counseling articles over 10 years: 1998-2008. Phase 1 reviewed over 200 articles in 10 different journals
- Phase 2 was a review of college counseling articles over 4 years to bring up database up to date: 2009-2013. Phase 2 reviewed nearly 500 articles in 9 different journals.
- Phase 3 was a review of college counseling articles over 4 years to further update the database: 2014-2017. Phase 3 reviewed nearly 400 articles in 9 different journals.

De-Centralized College Counseling Knowledge-Base: Journals Included in Our Data-Base

- College Counseling Literature
 - Journal of College Counseling
 - Journal of College Student Psychotherapy
- College Student Development Literature
 - College Student Journal
 - Journal of College Student Development
 - NASPA Journal/Journal of Student Affairs Research and Practice
- College Student Health Literature
 - Journal of American College Health
- Counseling Psychology Literature
 - Journal of Counseling Psychology
 - The Counseling Psychologist
- Professional Counseling Literature
 - Journal of Counseling & Development
 - Measurement & Evaluation in Counseling and Development

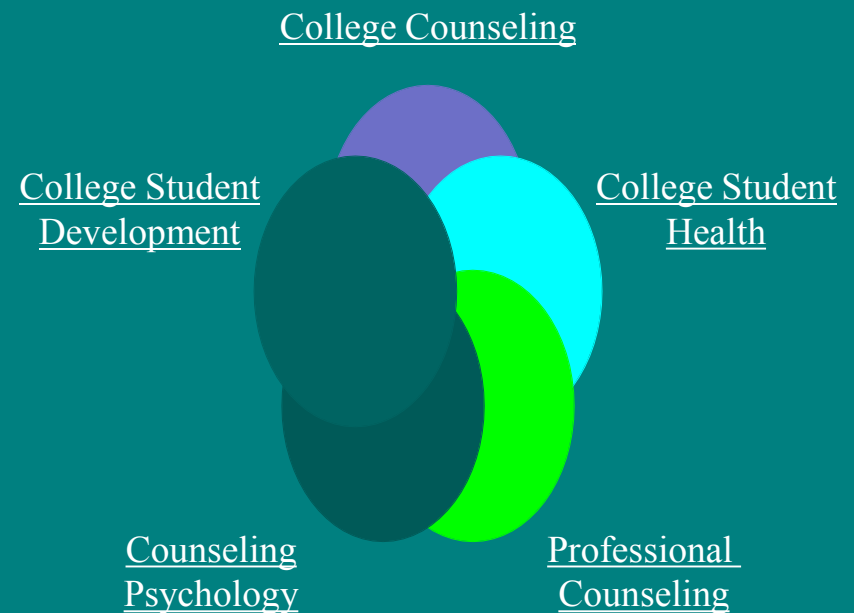

Image 1: Venn diagram depicting overlap of college counseling, college student development, college student health, counseling psychology, and professional counseling.

College counseling themes emerging from the College Student Health Literature: Journal of American College Health

Phase 1: 1998-2008

- Theme 1: College student counseling and mental health needs and presenting concerns
 - JACH (9 articles)
- Theme 2: Depression and suicide
 - JACH (5 articles)
- Theme 3: Eating disorders
 - JACH (5 articles)
- Theme 4: Counseling interventions
 - JACH (5 articles)
- Theme 5: Professional Issues and trends
 - JACH (3 articles)
- Theme 6: Specialized populations
 - JACH (3 articles)

College counseling themes emerging from the College Student Health Literature: Journal of American College Health

Phase 2: 2009-2013

- Theme 1: Specialized populations
 - JACH (14 articles)
- Theme 2: Professional issues and trends
 - JACH (12 articles)
- Theme 3: Depression and suicide
 - JACH (11 articles)
- Theme 4: College student counseling and mental health needs and presenting concerns
 - JACH (10 articles)
- Theme 5: Substance use
 - JACH (10 articles)
- Theme 6: Counseling interventions
 - JACH (7 articles)
- Theme 7: Eating disorders
 - JACH (4 articles)
- Theme 8: Intake and assessment
 - JACH (2 articles)

College counseling themes emerging from the College Student Health Literature: Journal of American College Health

Phase 3: 2014-2017

- Theme 1: College student counseling and mental health needs and presenting concerns
 - JACH (16 articles)
- Theme 2: Substance use
 - JACH (12 articles)
- Theme 3: Eating disorders
 - JACH (11 articles)
- Theme 4: Depression and suicide
 - JACH (10 articles)
- Theme 5: Counseling Interventions
 - JACH (9 articles)
- Theme 6: Specialized Populations
 - JACH (8 articles)
- Theme 7: Service member/veteran populations
 - JACH (7 articles)
- Theme 8: Intake and assessment
 - JACH (6 articles)
- Theme 6: Professional issues and trends
 - JACH (5 articles)

References

Dungy, G. J. (2003). Organization and functions of student affairs. In S. R. Komives, D. B. Woodard, Jr., & Associates (Eds.). Student services: A handbook for the profession, Fourth edition. San Francisco, CA: Jossey-Bass.

