

Guidelines for Authors

The Journal of College Counseling (JCC) mission is to advance the college counseling knowledge base and inform the practice of counseling professionals at 2- and 4-year colleges and universities. The Journal's authors include college counseling practitioners, researchers, and educators. All articles published in JCC must be grounded in the current literature and are expected to have implications for practice. All manuscripts must be well organized and clear in presentation of ideas and information. Research manuscripts should be based on studies using sound, defensible qualitative or quantitative designs. There are three manuscript categories:

- Research. These studies may include both quantitative and qualitative designs and should follow American Psychological Association (APA) guidelines for content and format. Research manuscripts should address important college counseling questions and include implications for practice and future studies.
- Professional Issues and Innovative Practice. Manuscripts may present an in-depth analysis and discussion of current issues related to the practice of counseling professionals in higher education settings or introduce and describe an innovative counseling method for higher education. These manuscripts should include a critical review of the relevant literature and research related to the professional issue addressed or a summary review of the literature pertaining to the innovative practice introduced. Professional Issues manuscripts must offer implications for professional practice and future research; Innovative Practice manuscripts should provide a clear description of the innovative method, technique, approach, or program, along with appropriate rationale and recommendations for implementation in professional practice. Innovative Practice manuscripts usually describe a practice that already has been successfully implemented or piloted.
- College Counseling Case Studies. These manuscripts are published in the Journal to advance the professional development of college counseling professionals and illustrate important aspects of college counseling practice. These manuscripts are of a clinical nature. Authors take appropriate steps to safeguard clientele. Case Studies submissions are accepted only by invitation from the Editors. Do not submit unsolicited Case Studies manuscripts. If interested in publishing a case study, contact the Editor directly at Joshua.Watson@tamucc.edu.

Submission of Manuscripts

Manuscripts are to be submitted electronically (in one attachment) in Microsoft Word format (.doc) to <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/jcc>. Full instructions and support are available on the site and a user ID and password can be obtained on the first visit. Support can be contacted by phone (888-503-1050), or via the red Get Help Now link in the upper right-hand corner of the log-in screen. For additional inquiries, contact the journal field editor: Joshua C. Watson, JCC Editor, Texas A&M University–Corpus Christi, Department of Counseling and Educational Psychology, 6300 Ocean Drive Unit 5834, EDC 151, Corpus Christi, TX 78412; phone: 361-825-2739; e-mail: Joshua.Watson@tamucc.edu. Manuscripts are reviewed by at least two editorial board members and typically undergo revision before final acceptance. The Editor makes final decisions regarding publication.

All submissions are blind peer reviewed. Therefore, authors must submit a manuscript that contains no clues to the authors' identity. Citations that may reveal the authors' identities (e.g., "in an extension of our previous work [citation of work with authors' names]") should be masked (e.g., ["Authors, 2011"]). The authors' names, positions or titles, places of employment, and mailing addresses should appear on one cover title page only, not in an author footnote. Other subsequent pages should include only the manuscript title in the header.

Authors submitting manuscripts to the journal should not simultaneously submit them to another journal, nor should manuscripts have been published elsewhere in substantially similar form or with substantially similar content.

Preparation of Manuscripts

Authors should carefully prepare their manuscripts in accordance with the following instructions: All manuscripts should be prepared according to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th ed.; APA, 2010). Manuscripts should be as concise as possible, yet sufficiently detailed to permit adequate communication and critical review. Consult the APA Publication Manual for specific guidelines regarding the format of the manuscript, abstract, citations and references, tables and figures, and other matters of editorial style. Tables and figures should be used only when essential.

Tables and Figures: No more than 3 tables and 2 figures with each manuscript will be accepted. Please be sure to indicate the table or figure callouts within the manuscripts. However, do not embed tables or figures within the body of the manuscript. Each table or figure should be placed on a separate page following the reference list. Figure captions are to be on an attached page, as required by APA style. Halftone line screens should be a minimum of 300 dpi. JPEG or PDF files are preferred. References: References should follow the style detailed in the APA Publication Manual. Check all references for completeness, including year, volume number, and pages for journal citations. Make sure that all references mentioned in the text are listed in the reference section and vice versa and that the spelling of author names and years are consistent.

Footnotes or Endnotes: Do not use. Incorporate any information within the body of the manuscript.

Other: Authors must also carefully follow APA Publication Manual guidelines for nondiscriminatory language regarding gender, sexual orientation, racial and ethnic identity, disabilities, and age. In addition, the terms counseling, counselor, and client are preferred, rather than their many synonyms.

Page Limitations

Manuscripts should not exceed 25 double-spaced pages, including references, tables, and figures. Shorter submissions, especially Innovative Practice manuscripts, are acceptable.

Permission Requirements

Lengthy quotations (generally 400 cumulative words or more from one source) require written permission from the copyright holder for reproduction. Previously published tables or figures that are used in their entirety, in part, or adapted also require written permission from the copyright holder for reproduction. It is the author’s responsibility to secure such permission, and a copy of the publisher’s written permission must be provided to the Editor immediately upon acceptance for publication.

Accepted Manuscripts

Authors will receive information for submitting a final copy of their manuscript upon acceptance from the Editor. Your article cannot be published until the publisher (Wiley) has received the appropriate signed license agreement. Once the article has been finalized for print production, the corresponding author will receive an e-mail from Wiley’s Author Services system which will ask them to log in and will present them with the appropriate license for completion. Page proofs for review will be sent to the corresponding author only via e-mail.

Receipt of Final PDF File Upon Publication

Upon publication of the journal, the corresponding author will be able to download a free PDF offprint of the article through the Author Services site. Information on the terms and conditions regarding the use of the final article PDF for the corresponding author and/or any coauthors is available on the site.
